

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MORITZ COLLEGE OF LAW

A quarterly publication for friends of the College

← Previous Article | Next Article →

ON POINT

CBA honors Moritz faculty, alumnus

The Columbus Bar Association presented the Liberty Bell Awards to two professors at The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law and an alumnus for his long-time service.

Associate Professor Michelle Alexander and Sharon L. Davies, the John C. Elam/Vorys Sater Professor of Law and director of the Center for Race and Ethnicity, received the award. According to the organization's website, the award recognizes the recipient's "love of our democratic system of government by law" and identifies the recipient as one "who promotes the general welfare and the interests of our posterity."

Additionally, the Columbus Bar Association honored alumnus Frank A. Ray '73 with the Bar Service Medal for his long-time service to the organization. It is the highest honor accorded by the Columbus Bar Association, according to the group's website. Ray, who practiced in Columbus for 40 years in civil litigation and appellate matters.

Posted in: Fall 2013, On Point